

Platte River State Park Trail Day

Written by Corey Godfrey

Wednesday, 02 May 2007

Come one, come all! Trail day on a weekday! It's time to get ready for the upcoming Battle Royale 6 hour Race on Saturday May 12th. A lot of work has already been done in the past month, but there's still some branches to trim and dead wood to move off the trail.

When: Wednesday May 9th at 4 pm

Where: Wild Turkey Parking lot (southeast of the tower and restaurant)

What to bring: Water, a good pair of work gloves, hiking boots and eye protection. Pants and a long sleeve shirt are highly recommended. Some tools will be provided, but feel free to bring your own.

Plan on a couple of hours of work. Bring a bike if you like. There should be a couple of hours of daylight left after the work is done to do some pre-riding for the race on Saturday.

Last Updated (Thursday, 10 May 2007)